

Gatehouse Street Songs

Roberta Galloway's father sang this ditty about Gatehouse streets.

Fleet Street, the glower street,
Bank Street the dandy.
Whistle Ra' can beat them ah,
(At) suppin' beer and brandy.

We have also come across another version of the same rhyme.

Front Street's a grand street
Back street is dandy
The Whistle Raw's abune them a'
For drinking ale and brandy
